

Play Tic Tac Toe

This is where the player would choose their name.

Dude, what should I call you?

Tell me your name.

This is where the player would choose their avatar that will be used for scoring and to replace the “X” and “O.”

Okay <name>, now pick an avatar that is you.

Choose your image.

Possible avatar images here. There could be a number displayed in cells, or their could be a JQuery type of accordion function to display the various images. Note that it would be desirable to have different layouts that scale for portrait versus landscape mode.

When the name and avatar are chosen it will move to the next screen.

Choose an opponent.

Computer

You can't beat me. I am a computer, and I never make mistakes. I am perfect.

Remote Player

Somebody mysterious from across interstellar space and time or maybe next to you.

When the opponent is chosen it will move to the next screen.

Time to Play

← Winner

<Player 1 Name>

Wins: 3

<Player 2 Name>

Wins: 2

Play again?

Yes

No

Where the action happens. If there is a winner or tie and both players want to play again, then the game starts over. If either player chooses to quit, then the game goes back to the starting screen on page 1.